“We want to bring clinics to the neighborhoods where people live, and our great partners are making this possible. It is easier than ever to get vaccinated,” said Monroe County Executive Adam Bello.

“Increasing our vaccination rate is the fastest way to get students back into schools in a safe fashion. We look forward to resuming a full slate of normal school activities, and these vaccines are our ticket to doing so. We're proud to partner with Monroe County, the Town of Wheatland, and the Scottsville Fire Department to bring these appointments right here to our community,” said Wheatland-Chili Superintendent Lynda Quick.
